

Sad

A young girl called Jihan was in love with a young man called Hussein. They lived in Mosel.

Hussein goes far away to work and says to Jihan, "I will come back one day. Wait for me".

One year passes. Hussein does not return. Jihan is sad. She sees the geese fly south for the winter. Every year they return to Mosel.

She hopes in her heart that, perhaps, Hussein will return, like the geese.

In the spring, the geese fly back to Mosel. There is no sign of Hussein.

Each spring she sees the geese return. Hussein does not come back.

Jihan does not give up.

Hussein has promised and will not break his word.

One day Hussein will return to Mosel and his beautiful Jihan, just like the geese, and they will live a long and happy life together.